

THE COLLABORATIVE ADVANTAGE

The way we resolve conflict is evolving—and collaborative professionals are leading the charge.

Vincent's, Brisbane

16 MAY 2025

Full Day Conference

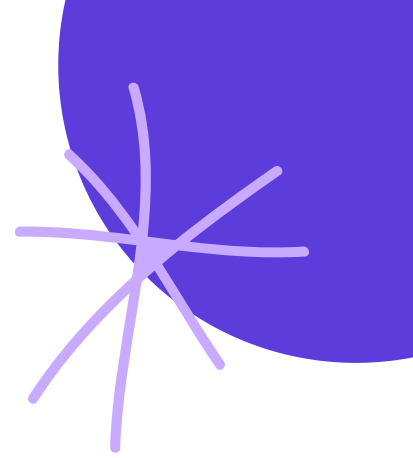

In partnership with

AACP

Australian Association of Collaborative Professionals

Tailored Dispute
Resolution

PROGRAM

09:00AM - 09:30AM

Welcome

Sue Abrams, Director, AACP & Clarissa Rayward, President of QACP
Welcome Remarks

09:30AM - 10:15AM

Perpetua Kish

The Practice Beneath the Process - Rediscovering the heart of collaborative practice

10:15AM - 11:00AM

Leanne Hughes

The future of professional advice

11:30AM - 12:30AM

Panel Session - Case Debrief

Zinta Harris, Jacinta Watkins, Lynda Babister and Jayne Humphries will discuss a recent NSW estate planning collaborative matter

2:00PM - 3:30PM

Interactive Workshop

Building and Growing Collaborative Practice, Led by Clarissa Rayward

4:00PM - 5:00PM

Selina Trigg

If Video Killed the Radio Star, will A.I Kill the Collaborative Professional?

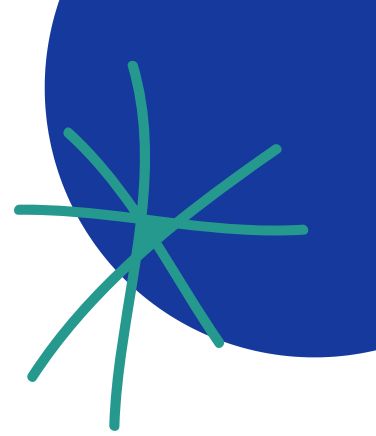

From 5:00PM

Closing & Networking Drinks

Conference closing remarks, Clarissa Rayward, followed by networking drinks

PRESENTATION SUMMARY

09:30AM - 10:15AM

Perpetua Kish

The Practice Beneath the Process - Rediscovering the heart of collaborative practice

Inspired by a quietly profound exchange with one of Collaborative Practice's original architects—who you will be able to “meet” on the day—this session invites us to pause and reconnect with the values that give Collaborative Practice its true power.

Perpetua will explore kindness as the foundation of Collaborative Practice—the steady force that builds trust, invites creativity, and sustains connection even in discomfort and disagreement.

Perpetua will reflect on what it means to truly hold space, what it takes to embody presence rather than perform process, and how collaborative practitioners can move from fixing to facilitating, from fear to trust, and from duality to connection.

This session is about stripping things back to the core of the work: how we show up, how we listen, and how we lead with humanity.

10:15AM - 11:00AM

Leanne Hughes

The future of professional advice

In a world of automation, complexity, and rising expectations, collaborative professionals offer what technology cannot: meaningful connection, context, and discernment. In this keynote, Leanne Hughes shares why client-led, human-centred practice is not only relevant but also the smartest strategy for staying credible, in demand, and ahead of the curve.

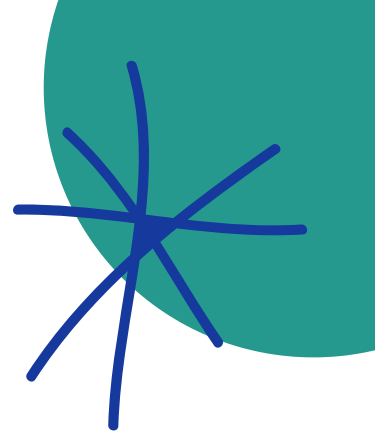

11:00AM - 11:30AM

Morning Tea

Networking & Refreshments

PRESENTATION SUMMARY

11:30AM - 12:30AM

Panel Session - Case Debrief

Zinta Harris, Jacinta Watkins, Lynda Babister and Jayne Humphries will discuss a recent NSW estate planning collaborative matter.

12:30PM - 2:00PM

Lunch

Take a stroll to Little Miss Sunshine for Lunch!

2:00PM - 3:30PM

Interactive Workshop

Building and Growing Collaborative Practice, Led by Clarissa Rayward.

3:30PM - 4:00PM

Afternoon Tea

Networking & Refreshments

PRESENTATION SUMMARY

4:00PM - 5:00PM

Selina Trigg

If Video Killed the Radio Star, will A.I Kill the Collaborative Professional?

While the world seems preoccupied with how Artificial Intelligence may revolutionise or even take our jobs, let's end our gathering with a tour of the future of Collaborative Practice.

How might A.I enrich and enhance the experience of the Collaborative Process?

How might we adapt the way we work and the Collaborative process itself to ensure its continued relevance?

What can we do to create a world in which all dispute resolution is collaborative, compassionate and constructive?

As we answer these questions, Selina will spotlight some other "A.I's" that Collaborative Practice holds which will see it "beat the bots"!

From 5:00PM

Close & Networking Drinks

Conference closing remarks, Clarissa Rayward, followed by networking drinks.